

New ILM Coaching & Mentoring Programmes: Remote Learning

No Guru are an approved provider for a full suite of coaching and mentoring skills programmes, leading to a recognised qualification from ILM. Since 2020 we have successfully delivered our coaching and mentoring programmes in an online format, providing access for learners across the UK and Internationally, and appealing to different learning styles.

ILM Level 5 Certificate (and Diploma) in Effective Coaching and Mentoring in March 2023 (proposed date).

The level 5 is equivalent to a degree level course, and it is important to us that our learners not only have a great experience during the taught elements of the programme, but also that you receive every support in achieving your qualification.

We have provided programme outlines below which encompass:

- Virtual Sessions: in an evening class format over 12 sessions
- Guided self-learning activity via our Coaching Manual
- ILM Tutorial Sessions delivered online (monthly)
- ILM Community Supervision Sessions (quarterly)
- 1 hour observed coaching with feedback
- Individual booked sessions with course tutors
- Access to downloadable resources and coaching tools
- Access to ILM units, Coaching Journal and templates for ILM submissions
- Guidance from assessor

All our programme costings include:

- ILM registration
- Institute of Leadership & Management studying membership
- Assignment marking and feedback
- Certification on completion

Once you are registered you can take part in any webinar, ILM tutorial or supervision event we host and for a period of 12 months (18 months for Diploma).

Following this, you also have an option to continue as part of our ILM Community through a monthly subscription model. This will enable you to continue developing your coaching practice, keep up to date with coaching themes and receive support in attracting clients and developing potential revenue streams.
